entertaining and interactive format for individuals of all ages. She is also an Adjunct Professor in Health & Human Sexuality at Middlesex County College and Montgomery County Community College, a Gynecological Teaching Associate for the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, and a Safe Space Trainer/Board Member for Gay Lesbian Straight Education Network (GLSEN) of Central New Jersey.

Also on...

Thursday, November 10, 2011
5:00 PM – 6:30 PM
“Sexier Safer Sex & Ask the Sexpert!”
with Dr. “Juicy” Justine

Are concerns about pregnancy and STIs affecting your sex life? Are you sexually active or considering becoming sexually active? Come learn how to keep you and your partner safe in the sack! In this interactive workshop you will have the opportunity to see and touch Condoms, Dental Dams, Gloves, and other barrier methods as well as contraceptive options available both over-the-counter and via prescription so you and your doctor can determine what the best method is for you! Realistically it's not about who is having sex with whom, STIs don't discriminate, so it’s about what’s touching what. We will discuss risks associated with certain sexual behaviors and how to decrease those risks. We will also talk about proper usage of different methods, why some methods are more effective than others and other ways to make play safer like care and cleaning of sex toys and equipment, phthalates, lubricants, parabens, and more. There will be a brief discussion about fluid bonding and when it's okay and anonymous “Ask the Sexpert,” so bring along your questions. There will be free condoms and lubricants for all attendees, plus raffles for free sex toys at the end of the workshop! ♣

Friday, November 11, 2011
1:00 PM – 2:00 PM
“Gender Outlaws: Exploding Normal”
with Dr. Damon Constantinides

What happens when the choices "man" or "woman" aren't enough? People who identify as transgender identify with a gender that's different than the one that they were born with. There have been transgender people across both time and history — we'll meet some of these amazing people to learn more about gender and how we can explode "normal."

Damon Constantinides, Ph.D., L.S.W., is a psychotherapist and sexologist in Philadelphia. He provides individual and couples counseling and teaches about relationships, sexuality, gender, and mindfulness. You can learn more about him at: www.therapistdamon.com. ♣
Several recent studies have focused on the phenomenon of “sexting” by young people. The results of these studies often depend on how “sexting” (and “young people”) are defined. While news outlets report on the results, coverage quickly turns to the possible negative consequences that surround the controversy. This presentation will help participants clarify their own values around “sexting,” synthesize the results of recent studies, and critique media coverage of the issue.

Ryan McKee, M.S., M.Ed., is a Doctoral Candidate in Widener University’s Human Sexuality Educational program. He is an Adjunct Instructor in the Department of Health and Nutrition at Montclair State University, and is the Co-Editor of the 12th Edition of Taking Sides: Clashing Views in Human Sexuality.

Michael McGee, a doctoral candidate in Widener’s Human Sexuality program and Adjunct Professor at Montclair State University, will provide an enlightening and entertaining look at how sex has been featured in various media throughout the ages. From the prehistoric “Venus of Wilendorf” to modern advertising and Internet porn, you will see a variety of images, and hear how society has responded to their use. Michael will offer some thoughts about media literacy and how to think about the sexually explicit material that is so pervasive in popular culture.

Dr. Justine Marie Shuey is an AASECT Certified Sexuality Educator and Board Certified Sexologist with her Doctorate in Human Sexuality from The Institute for Advanced Study of Human Sexuality; her Masters in Human Sexuality Education from Widener University, and Bachelors in English, and Women and Gender Studies from Rutgers University.

Dr. Shuey presents workshops on a variety of topics related to sex and sexuality in an...